Dear Sir.

Some weeks since I wrote you asking if upon receipt of an amount of money to be named by you, you would send me five double eagles — new — I have not heard from you - and conclude my request was overlooked, or else you do not care to be troubled with it. I am quite anxious to get the coin and therefore beg pardon for again making the request. If you do not wish to send so many will you send me one or more? If so please name the amount & shall send you. Perhaps I should address the Cashier or some other officer

Yours respectfully E. H. Hinman
